Organic Highback

Charles Eames & Eero Saarinen, 1940
Vitra

The Organic Chair – a small and comfortable reading chair – was developed in 1940 for the competition 'Organic Design in Home Furnishings' organised by the Museum of Modern Art in New York. With its sculptural shapes, the design was ahead of the times. But due to the absence of suitable manufacturing techniques, the armchair never went into production. Not until 1950 did it become possible to manufacture and market organically shaped seat shells in large quantities, as exemplified by Charles and Ray Eames's famous Plastic Armchair or Saarinen's Tulip Chair.

The Organic Chair is also available in a version with an extended backrest and longer, wider armrests – the Organic Highback armchair.
